

21st CENTURY BRITISH EDUCATION: DEVELOPING GLOBAL LEADERS

King's College Schools and the British Chamber of Commerce in Spain will organise an informative evening about British education and its advantages, especially those which tackle the challenges of the ever-changing 21st century.

The event is primarily aimed towards parents and businesspeople who want to know more about British education, focusing on the needs of professional and social environments of the future.

The event will also include a presentation by King's College schools followed by a roundtable in which experts will discuss the most topical issues on education and its current challenges (internationalization, digitalisation and talent).

AGENDA

- 7.00 pm Registration
- 7.15 pm Welcome by Adam Austerfield, National Vice-President of the British Chamber
- 7.20 pm Speech by Nigel Fossey, Headteacher of King's College School (La Moraleja)
- 7.35 pm Roundtable moderated by Adam Austerfield
 - Matthew Taylor, Headmaster of King's College (Soto de Viñuelas)
 - Leyre Barrio, Sixth Form student at King's College (Soto de Viñuelas)
 - Elena Peña, founder of Micuir and King's College alumnus
 - Fernando Calvo, People & Culture Director at Hays España
- 8.15 pm Q&A
- 8.25 pm Closing remarks
- 8.30 pm Networking cocktail

 14th March

 7.00 pm

 Club Financiero Génova
Calle Marqués de la Ensenada, 14

 RSVP
madrid@britchamber.com